Gender equality, also known as sexual equality or equality of the sexes, is the state of equal ease of access to resources and opportunities regardless of gender, including economic participation and decision-making; and the state of valuing different behaviors, aspirations and needs equally, regardless of gender.

Equal rights and opportunities for girls and boys help all children fulfil their potential.

Girls and boys see gender inequality in their homes and communities every day – in textbooks, in the media and among the adults who care for them.

GENDER EQUALITY TODAY FOR A SUSTAINABLE TOMORROW

You educate a man; you educate a man. You educate a woman; you educate a generation.

Brown, 1992

What is gender equality ?

- Gender equality is when people of all genders have equal rights, responsibilities and opportunities.
- Equality is about ensuring that every individual has an equal opportunity to make the most of their lives and talents.

Why is equality important ?

- Gender inequality not only affects the lives of individual men and women but it also affects economic growth and hinders development.
- When women are excluded from working, economies are restricted, and poverty continues its cycle.
- More years of schooling means girls marry at a later age and are less vulnerable to intimate partner violence...

"Gender equality is not a woman's issue, it is a human issue. It affects us all."

What is sustainability ?

Sustainability means meeting our own needs without compromising the ability of future generations to meet their own needs.

Empowering women and girls to have a voice giving them equal role in decision making related to climate change and sustainability is essential for sustainable development and greater gender equality.

How to promote gender equality ?

- Remove biases
- Focus on the results, not on the person
- Promote equal opportunity for continuous learning
- Stop child marriage
- Raise aspirations of girls and their parents
- Stop violence against women

Feminism isn't about making women strong. Women are already strong. It's about changing the way the world perceives that strength.

How is gender equality related to sustainability ?

- Women are increasingly being recognized as more vulnerable to climate change impacts than men, as they constitute the majority of the world's poor and are more dependent on the natural resources which climate change threatens the most.
- At the same time, women and girls are effective and powerful leaders and change-makers for climate adaptation and mitigation.
- They are involved in sustainability initiatives around the world, and their participation and leadership results in more effective climate action.
- Without gender equality today, a sustainable future, and an equal future, remains

Violence against women isn't cultural, it's criminal. Equality cannot come eventually, it's something we must fight for now.
